Numb. 11398.

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday October 19, to Saturday October 23, 1773.

Dublin Caſtle, October 12, 1773.

THIS Day, the Parliament having met, according to the Prorogation, his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant went in State to the Houſe of Peers, and being ſeated on the Throne, with the uſual Solemnity, the Gentleman Uſher of the Black Rod was ſent with a Meſſage from his Excellency to the Houſe of Commons, ſignifying his Pleaſure, that they ſhould immediately attend his Excellency in the Houſe of Peers; the Commons being come thither accordingly, his Excellency made the following Speech to both Houſes:

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is with the higheſt Satisfaction that I obey His Majeſty's Commands to meet you in Parliament, and to concur with you in every Meaſure that may promote the real Intereſt of this Kingdom.

His Majeſty, who has made the Happineſs of all His People the conſtant Object of His Wiſhes, and the unvaried Rule of His Actions, has given it to me in particular Charge to aſſure His faithful Subjects of Ireland of the Continuance of His paternal Regard and Affection for them, and I am perſuaded that in all your Proceedings you will continue to manifeſt that uniform Attention to the Publick Good, of which His Majeſty's own Conduct affords the beſt and moſt illuſtrious Example.

As every Addition to His Majeſty's Royal Family adds Strength to that happy Succeſſion, which is the great Security of all that is valuable to us, I have a particular Pleaſure in communicating to you the Birth of another Prince ſince your laſt Seſſion of Parliament.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I have ordered the proper Officers to lay before you the Public Accounts and Eſtimates, from which you will be fully acquainted with the Circumſtances of this Country, and may be enabled to form a true Judgment of the Proviſions neceſſary to be made for the honourable Support of His Majeſty's Government. I have His Majeſty's Commands to aſk the Supplies neceſſary for this Purpoſe, and I am confident you will grant them in ſuch a Manner as will be leaſt burthenſome to His Majeſty's Subjects of this Kingdom: on my Part, you may reſt ſecure, that they ſhall be faithfully applied, and frugally adminiſtered.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The Laws of your Country will naturally preſent themſelves as the firſt and moſt important Objects of your Conſideration. It is my Duty to call your particular Attention to ſuch as reſpect the Religion and Morals, the Security and good Order, of the People. It is in vain that Laws are made for the Puniſhment of Offenders, unleſs their Morals can be reformed, and their Minds impreſſed with Principles of Virtue.

Your Proteſtant Charter-Schools, the Seminaries of true Religion and Induſtry, deſerve your particular Conſideration; and your Linen Manufacture, the great Source of Wealth to the Nation, is an Object of the higheſt Importance. You will conſider whether any new Laws may be wanted to improve, regulate, and extend, this moſt beneficial Trade; or to ſupport its Reputation at Foreign Markets.

I am firmly perſuaded that we are met together animated with the ſame Intentions of maintaining, the Honor and Dignity of His Majeſty's Government, and of promoting the Good of this Kingdom. Your Conduct has convinced me that I ſhall receive from you the fulleſt Proofs of your Loyalty and Attachment to the King, and of your Zeal in the Publick Service: Mine, I truſt, will ſhew that I have nothing more ſincerely at Heart than the Welfare and Proſperity of Ireland.

Dublin Caſtle, October 12.

The Houſes of Lords and Commons having reſolved upon humble Addreſſes to His Majeſty, the ſame, together with Addreſſes from both Houſes to the Lord Lieutenant, were this Day preſented to his Excellency, and, with his Excellency's Anſwers, are as follow:

To the King's Moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The Humble Addreſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled, humbly beg leave to aſſure Your Majeſty that we have the moſt lively Senſe of the many Bleſſings we enjoy, under the mild, juſt, and auſpicious Government of Your Majeſty, who have made the Happineſs of Your People the conſtant Object of Your Wiſhes; the unvaried Rule of Your Actions.—Permit us, with the greateſt Gratitude, to expreſs our moſt unfeigned Acknowledgements for the Continuance of Your Majeſty's paternal Regard and Affection for Your faithful Subjects of this Kingdom, and Your Majeſty may reſt aſſured that in all our Proceedings we will continue to manifeſt that uniform Attention to the publick Good, of which Your Majeſty's Conduct affords the beſt and moſt illuſtrious Example.

Truly ſenſible of the many and great Bleſſings we enjoy under ſo excellent a Sovereign, conſidering every Addition to Your Majeſty's Royal Family as ſtrengthening that happy Succeſſion which is the great Security of all that is valuable to us, and feeling the moſt ſincere Pleaſure from each new Source of your domeſtic Felicity, we humbly offer our warmeſt Congratulations, upon the Birth of another Prince.

We

ALEPPO

We cannot have a ſtronger Aſſurance of Your Majeſty's Attention to the Happineſs and Proſperity of this Kingdom, than by Your gracious Appointment of Earl Harcourt to be our Chief Governor, of whoſe diſtinguiſhed Virtues and Abilities Your Majeſty from Your earlieſt Years hath had uniform Experience.

We ſhall prove by our Conduct that we do not differ from Your Majeſty and the World in a full and cordial Reliance upon his Excellency's Wiſdom, Juſtice, and Moderation.

Fully perſuaded that the beſt and moſt effectual Method to recommend ourſelves to Your Majeſty's Favour is, and ever will be, to promote the true Intereſt of Your People, we ſhall not neglect to pay due Attention to the Laws of our Country, particularly to thoſe which reſpect the Religion and Morals, the Security and good Order, of the People; convinced that unleſs their Morals be reformed, and their Minds impreſſed with Principles of Virtue, Laws for the Puniſhment of Offenders are made in vain.

The Proteſtant Charter-Schools, thoſe Seminaries of true Religion and Induſtry, ſhall receive our particular Conſideration; the Linen Manufacture, that great Source of our National Wealth, is an Object of the higheſt Importance; we ſhall give our utmoſt Attention to the forming of any Laws that may be wanting to improve, regulate, or extend this moſt beneficial Trade, or to ſupport it's Reputation at Foreign Markets.

Your Majeſty may be aſſured, that we will manifeſt a true and unbiaſſed Regard to the publick Welfare by that Unanimity in all our Proceedings which conduces to the Eaſe of Your Majeſty's Government, ſo eſſentially neceſſary to the Intereſt of Ireland.

May the Divine Goodneſs long preſerve to Your People the Bleſſings of Your Majeſty's auſpicious Reign, and long may we give Your Majeſty the Satisfaction of governing the Hearts of a generous and loyal People.

W. Watts Gayer,
Edw. Gayer, } Cler' Parliament'

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

I Will forthwith tranſmit this dutiful and loyal Addreſs to be laid before His Majeſty.

To the KING's moſt Excellent Majeſty.

The humble Addreſs of the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes, in Parliament aſſembled.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to approach your ſacred Perſon, with the warmeſt Profeſſions of our juſt Senſe of the many Bleſſings we enjoy under the mild, juſt, and auſpicious, Government of ſo gracious a Sovereign, who has made the Happineſs of His People the conſtant Object of His Wiſhes, and the unvaried Rule of his Actions; and with the moſt grateful Acknowledgements for the Continuance of your Majeſty's paternal Regard and Affection for your faithful Subjects of this Kingdom.

Your Majeſty has given us a conſpicuous Inſtance of your gracious Attention to the Happineſs and Proſperity of Ireland, by ſparing from your Councils, and ſending to preſide over us, a Chief Governor, who, having long had the Honour to be placed near your ſacred Perſon, and under the Influence of your Royal Example, muſt be particularly acquainted with your Majeſty's benign Purpoſes for the Happineſs of your People, and to have derived from that great Source thoſe Virtues and Talents which are peculiarly adapted to diffuſe and ſecure the Bleſſings of good Government, and of conſtitutional Liberty.

Under the Conduct and Adminiſtration of a Nobleman of the moſt diſtinguiſhed Character, whoſe Public and Private Virtues give a Luſtre to his high Station, we ſhall be peculiarly happy in continuing to manifeſt that uniform Attention to the Public Good, of which your Majeſty's Conduct has ſet the moſt illuſtrious Example.

We humbly offer our warmeſt Congratulations to your Majeſty upon the happy Event of the Birth of another Prince, thoroughly ſenſible that every Addition to your Majeſty's Royal Family adds Strength to that happy Succeſſion, which is the great Security of all that is valuable to us, and to which your Majeſty's loyal Subjects of Ireland, from the united Motives of Gratitude and Intereſt, have at all Times ſhewn the moſt ſteady and inviolate Attachment.

Conſcious of the Happineſs which we have enjoyed under the beſt of Princes, we ſhall cheerfully grant, as far as the preſent State and Circſtances of our Country will admit, and in the Manner leaſt burthenſome to your Majeſty's Subjects, the Supplies neceſſary for the honourable Support of your Majeſty's Government; convinced, that in properly maintaining the Honor and Dignity of Government, we effectually promote the Good of our Country.

Satisfied that Penal Laws for the Reformation of the People are inſufficient, unleſs their Morals can be reformed, and their Minds impreſſed with Principles of Virtue, we ſhall direct our particular Attention to ſuch Laws as will extend the Influence of Religion, improve the Morals, and promote the Security, and good Order, of the People.

Our Proteſtant Charter-Schools ſhall receive from us the Conſideration due to Seminaries of true Religion and Induſtry; and we ſhall, without Delay, prepare any new Laws that may be wanting to improve, regulate, or extend our Linen Manufacture.

Your Majeſty may be thoroughly perſuaded that your faithful Commons, as Repreſentatives of your Majeſty's dutiful and affectionate Subjects of Ireland, are animated with the ſtrongeſt Deſire to maintain the Honour and Dignity of your Majeſty's Government; and we ſhall, upon every Occaſion, give unqueſtionable Proofs of our Zeal for the publick Service, and of our never-failing Loyalty and Attachment to your Majeſty's moſt ſacred Perſon.

E. Sterling,
H. Alcock, } Cler' Dom' Com'

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

I Will take the firſt Opportunity of tranſmitting this dutiful and loyal Addreſs to be laid before His Majeſty.

To

To his Excellency Simon, Earl Harcourt, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.

The humble Addreſs of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled return your Excellency our moſt ſincere Thanks for your Speech from the Throne to both Houſes of Parliament.

We eſteem ourſelves particularly happy in the Satisfaction which your Excellency has been pleaſed to expreſs at the Meeting us in Parliament, and doubt not of your concurring with us in every Meaſure that may promote the real Intereſt of this Kingdom, and we beg Leave to aſſure your Excellency, that the Satisfaction is ſincerely mutual on our Part.

Your Excellency's great Abilities, which have received the higheſt Marks of Approbation from the many important Truſts which in Succeſſive Reigns and various Adminiſtrations have been repoſed in you, give us the moſt lively Hopes of every Benefit which can reſult from a ſteady, prudent, and benign Adminiſtration.

The Aſſurances which your Excellency has given us of the Continuance of His Majeſty's paternal Regard for his faithful Subjects of Ireland, fills us with the warmeſt Sentiments of Duty and Gratitude; and we cannot too much acknowledge the gracious Manifeſtation of His Majeſty's Goodneſs towards us, in committing the Government of this Kingdom to a Nobleman whoſe Name has ſtood unſullied through the many high Offices he has filled.

We are moſt thankful to your Excellency for the joyful Information you have been pleaſed to give us of the Increaſe of the domeſtic Happineſs of our amiable Sovereign, and the Stability added to His illuſtrious Houſe by the Birth of another Prince, deſcended from him with whom the Welfare of theſe Kingdoms is ſo neceſſarily connected.

Your Excellency's wiſe and ſeaſonable Advice in directing our Attention towards ſuch Laws as reſpect the Religion and Morals, the Security and good Order, of the People, cannot fail to animate our Endeavours to do every Thing on our Part to procure ſo deſirable an End, and to take into Conſideration what new Laws may be neceſſary as well for that Purpoſe, as alſo for the Extending and Improving our Linen Manufacture, that great Source of Wealth to this Nation.

The favourable Sentiments that your Excellency is pleaſed to conceive of us, give us the moſt ſincere Pleaſure, and we can have no Doubt, that the Proofs we ſhall afford of our Loyalty and Attachment to the King, and of our Zeal for the Publick Service, will be faithfully and impartially repreſented by your Excellency to His Majeſty, ſo as to preſerve to us his favourable Opinion and Royal Protection. And we flatter ourſelves, that there will be that Unanimity in all our Deliberations, as will be the diſtinguiſhing Mark of this Seſſion, and of Your Excellency's Adminiſtration.

W. Watts Gayer,
Edw. Gayer, } Cler' Parliamentor'

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

My Lords,

I Return you my ſincere Thanks for this very kind and obliging Addreſs.

I feel myſelf very happy in poſſeſſing your good Opinion, which it ſhall be my conſtant Study to preſerve. You may be aſſured that I will moſt faithfully repreſent to His Majeſty your Loyalty and Attachment; and I flatter myſelf that I ſhall have frequent Occaſions of doing you that Juſtice, in a Manner honourable to you, and moſt pleaſing to myſelf.

To his Excellency Simon Earl Harcourt, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.

The humble Addreſs of the Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes in Parliament aſſembled.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE His Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland in Parliament aſſembled, do with the greateſt Cheerfulneſs attend your Excellency, to return our ſincere Thanks for your moſt excellent Speech to both Houſes of Parliament.

We are happy in receiving from your Excellency the Aſſurance of the Continuance of His Majeſty's paternal Regards for his dutiful and affectionate Subjects of this Kingdom, of which we eſteem it a particular Inſtance, that he has appointed for our Chief Governor a Nobleman of approved Experience, Wiſdom and Abilities, and to whoſe great Virtues and diſtinguiſhed Character we juſtly look up with the fulleſt Confidence and the higheſt Reſpect.

His Majeſty's Conduct, in making the Public Good the conſtant Rule of His Actions, will be our ſureſt Guide in the Diſcharge of our Duty, which we ſhall effectually accompliſh, by ſhewing the ſame uniform Attention to the Good of our Country, that His Majeſty has invariably exerted in promoting the general Happineſs of all His People; and we are fully convinced, that your Excellency will ſteadily and uniformly purſue that Illuſtrious Example of Attention to the Public Good, which you have ſo powerfully recommended to our Imitation.

We ſhall carefully conſider the Publick Accounts, and will cheerfully grant the Supplies neceſſary to ſupport His Majeſty's Government with Honour, as far as the State and Circumſtances of our Country will permit, and in the Manner that will be moſt eaſy to our Fellow-Subjects of this Kingdom, who are deeply intereſted in the Support of that mild and juſt Government, neceſſary for carrying into Execution thoſe Laws upon which the Preſervation and Security of Liberty and Property, and the Maintenance of the Peace and good Order of the Publick muſt entirely depend: And we confide in your Excellency's Wiſdom and Juſtice, that thoſe Supplies will be faithfully applied, and frugally adminiſtered.

We thankfully acknowledge your Excellency's Goodneſs, in pointing out the Laws of our Country as the firſt and moſt important Objects of our Conſideration, and in directing our Attention to ſuch as concern the Religion and Morals, the Security and good Order of the People.

There cannot be a more convincing Proof of your Excellency's Regard for the Welfare of this Kingdom, than your recommending ſo particularly to our Conſideration, that principal Source of our Wealth the Linen Manufacture, the Extention of which, and the Support whereof at Foreign Markets, are Objects of the higheſt Importance to this Nation, and at this Time call in a peculiar Manner for your Excellency's Patronage and Protection; and your Excellency's cellency's Recommendation of our Charter-Schools will be an additional Incitement to us to promote and encourage thoſe uſeful Seminaries of true Religion and Induſtry: We ſhall co-operate with your Excellency, with equal Zeal, in maintaining the Honour and Dignity of the Crown, as in promoting the Good of this Kingdom, ſenſible that thoſe Objects equally tend to the Happineſs of the People.

Our future Conduct will, we hope, confirm the Approbation which you Excellency has expreſſed of our Attachment to His Majeſty, and of our Zeal in the Publick Service; and we have every Reaſon to expect, that your Excellency's Adminiſtration will demonſtrate that you have nothing more ſincerely at Heart than the Welfare and Proſperity of Ireland.

E. Sterling,

His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Anſwer.

I Return the Houſe of Commons my beſt Thanks for their very kind and obliging Addreſs. I ſhall endeavour, by an earneſt Attention to my Duty to the King, and to the Proſperity and Service of this Country, to deſerve the Continuance of their good Opinion.

Naples, September 28. Their Sicilian Majeſties returned from the Iſland of Procita on Saturday laſt in the Afternoon, remained here that Night, and removed early the next Day to Portici. The Day of their Majeſties Return to this City an Account was brought from Sicily of a Revolution at Palermo, the People having been diſcontented at the high Price of Proviſions, (ſome eſſential Articles of which, at Times, were totally wanting) owing to Monopolizers, one of whom had loaded two Ships with Cheeſe for Naples, which produced a great Scarcity of that neceſſary Article at Palermo; which Ships, however, were ſtopped juſt without the Harbour, and the Cargoes ſold at the Market Price to the People, by Order of the Prætor Prince Caſſaro, who was ſoon after ſeized with the Strangury, and died on the 20th Inſtant. This Nobleman having been attended during his Illneſs by the Viceroy's (the Marquis de Foglianis) Surgeon, a Suſpicion aroſe amongſt the Rioters, that the Viceroy wiſhed his Death; whereupon they proceeded, to the Number of about Thirty Thouſand, to the Viceroy's Palace, where the Prince Pietra-Perſia, Son of the Prince of Buttera, a young Sicilian Nobleman about Twenty Years of Age, happened to be with the Viceroy. This young Nobleman ſeeing them enter the Apartment, reſolutely aſked what they would have, and, upon being anſwered, The Life of the Viceroy, and finding they proceeded to Acts of Violence, threw his Arms round the Viceroy, and in a firm Tone demanded, in the Name of his Family, that they ſhould forbear, ſaying, Spare the Life of this innocent old Man, or firſt take mine. This ſpirited Conduct checked their Fury, and they agreed to ſpare the Viceroy's Life on his Account, but inſiſted that he ſhould inſtantly quit the Kingdom; upon which the Prince attended the Viceroy to the Water-ſide, where a Genoeſe Veſſel was prepared to receive him. Three of the Monopolizers Goods, Furniture, Plate, &c. were thrown into the Fire, and the Rioters, having detected one of their Number ſecreting ſome of the Effects, immediately put him to Death, which was the only Life loſt during the Tumult. After this the Rioters proclaimed the Archbiſhop for their viceroy.
